The Mauna Kea brought quite a few passengers from Honolulu last Tuesday. Evidently the diphtheria scare is blowing over.

Word has been received by the postmasters on Maui to have all mail matter leaving here fumigated before being forwarded.

Charlie Hall, has been passing a few pleasant days in and around Wailuku. Charlie always manages to land in pleasant places wherever he goes.

Dr. Weddick and Dr. Farrell dissolved partnership on January 1st. All persons owing the above firm of doctors will pay their money to Dr. Weddick.

James D. Dole, president of the Hawaiian Pineapple Company, together with Mr. Bentley of the California Fruit Packers' Association arrived on the Lurline Friday.

J. W. Kershner, who is about to open a vulcanizing establishment in Wailuku, is in town. His machinery is here, and he expects to be ready for business by the first of next month.

Mr. Ed. Paris of E. O. Hall & Sons arrived on the Lurline Friday morning from Honolulu. Mr. Paris brought three Hudsons, one for Billy Decoto, and one for Supervisor Hennig.

The directory people have a real live agent on this island this year, in the person of Mr. Higgins. He is going about his work in a business like manner, which augurs well for a better directory this year.

Mr. R. A. Wadsworth, the Deputy Grand Chancellor of the Knights of Pythias, went to Honolulu last week to install the new officers of the three lodges there. This week he is on Hawaii, installing officers on the big island.

Jim Coke was in town again this week. Jim has a little scheme up his sleeve this time which may give us additional representation in Washington. You know Jim has them all nailed to the mast when it comes to passing around the glad hand.

Mr. J. C. Cohen of Honolulu arrived on the Lurline Friday morning. Mr. Cohen is on a flying trip, returning by the Mauna Kea. He is looking into the advisability of including Wailuku in the theatrical combine, that is being consummated in Honolulu.

A number of Wailuku people are rehearsing for a play to be given in the near future. The cast of the play includes many well known local people and the community will be treated to a genuine surprise when the curtain goes up on the first act. The costumes to be worn have not arrived yet, but enough is known regarding them to make the bald headed row sell at a premium.

Trouble Ahead

For Kaiser.

According to Berlin society gossip, Princess Victoria has signaled her coming of age by having a serious tiff with the kaiser, her father, over her enthusiastic support of emancipation of women. The princess does not share her imperial father's enthusiasm for kitchen and domestic interests, and she argued at length with him about his famous speech against woman's suffrage recently.

The kaiser, who is very anxious to keep the princess in a state of girlhood as long as possible, was astonished by his daughter's obvious grasp of the latest emancipation arguments, and horror stricken by her obvious intention to use her influence to help girls to independence.

The princess is said to have argued that the position of women in Germany was ridiculously medieval. The German idea of woman's mission is to catch an officer for a husband, using her dowry or pretty face as bait. The princess said that, women being more and more compelled to enter the arena in the struggle for a livelihood, it was imperative that the kaiser should stop talking about woman's proper place being the nursery or the kitchen.

By way of giving public expression to her feelings, the princess paid a long surprise visit to the Lette society's institute for teaching young women how to earn a livelihood and independence.

The Latest In Sports

What the Wrestlers, Boxers and Baseball Artists Are Doing.

Young Griffo, the Australian boxer, considered by many experts as the most wonderful boxer who ever drew on a glove and admitted by unanimous vote to be the most unruly of any of his ilk, is in New York. He was introduced at the Long Acre Club recently it being announced that he was on his way back to Australia with Charlie Griffin. He doesn't look much like the old Griffo. His hair is snowy white and he has grown stout, to use a highly complimentary term in describing his weight.

Griffo was and is an ignorant chap. During the days of the old Broadway Club he boxed before a big audience on percentage. After the bout he went to the office to get his money, amounting to something like $1,500. They began to count it out for him in small bills until some $900 was stacked up. That much money in aces and deuces made quite a pile, and Griffo was both thirsty and impatient.

"That'll do," he announced, stuffing the bills into his pockets. He never asked for the balance.

"That'll do," he announced, stuffing the bills into his pockets. He never asked for the balance.

Drink was Griffo's greatest failing. Once at Coney island he climbed, barefooted on a bootblack stand and demanded to have his feet shined. He was accommodated. But he could box, although he had no punch. It was said of him that he could stand on a pocket handkerchief in the center of a ring and let the other fellow do the footwork for twenty rounds without having the weight of a glove laid on himself.

When Papke met and defeated Ed Williams at the Sydney Stadium the reporters had hard things to say about the American. The Sydney "Referee" man said: "Papke is dubbed 'the Illinois Thunderbolt' in his own country, but there was no suggestion of thunderbolt about anything Bill did from end to end of the battle. Some of the American's swings were so wide and wild that they did not reach within two or three feet of the Australian."

Of Jimmy Clabby there seems to be no two opinions. He is voted the most graceful, most talented and most effective boxer that has been seen in Australia in many years. In the headlines of one story of Clabby's fight with Bob Bryant the American is described as "a destroyer" and "a whirlwind from the North." He is also referred to as "the most versatile and brilliantly clever boxer of the age."

Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Americans has received or will somewhere in his travels in Europe—a letter which will tell him how much his fellow stockholders of the Athletics appreciate the achievements of him and his team during the past season. This mark of recognition will be a gift of $5000 as a wedding present from the club. At the annual meeting of the Athletics, which was held recently, it was decided to vote this amount to Manager Mack in appreciation of his services to the club, and that it should be called a wedding gift. Unsuccessful efforts were made to keep the fact secret.

Jimmy Williams, the former Yankee infielder, may rejoin fast company. He may become a utility infielder for the Tigers next season, as it is feared that Jim Delehanty's injured leg will not permit him to play continually. Williams was with Minneapolis last year.
